Hospice of Michigan Announces Promotion of Patrick Miller

Detroit, Michigan, March 10, 2014 – Patrick Miller has been promoted to executive vice president of Hospice of Michigan.

In his new role, Miller will be responsible for providing guidance for all areas of operations and will provide oversight of clinical business operations, service operations, At Home Support, pediatric programs and work life services programs offered by HOM. He will continue to serve the organization as COO.

Since 2004, Miller has served a variety of roles at HOM, most recently as senior vice president of service operations. He has also served as facilities service line director, corporate director of clinical services, corporate director of new business development and corporate director of organizational integrity for Michigan's largest hospice and palliative care provider in the state.

Before joining HOM, he was executive director of Avalon Hospice in Flint.

Miller has been appointed by Gov. Rick Snyder as a public board member for the State Board of Mortuary Science. Active professionally, he also serves on the boards of both the National Arab American Nurses Association and the Michigan Oncology Quality Consortium Advisory Board and is a COO forum member of the National Hospice Work Group.

Miller is a graduate of the second-degree/second-career program at Wayne State University College of Nursing. He holds a bachelor's degree in biology, an MBA and a master's of health services administration from the University of Michigan.

Miller currently resides in Troy with his wife, Tamara, and their three children.

About Hospice of Michigan

A nationally recognized leader in end-of-life care, Hospice of Michigan is the original – and largest – hospice in the state. The non-profit cares for more than 1,400 patients each day in 56 counties across Michigan, raising more than $4 million each year to cover the cost of care for the uninsured and underinsured. HOM offers a broad range of services to enhance the quality of life at the end of life, including At Home Support™, our advanced illness management program, community-based palliative care and pediatric care programs. HOM provides grief support and counseling, caregiver education and support, and education programs for physicians and healthcare professionals through its research, training and education arm, the Hospice of Michigan Institute.
